

Turtle and Lion

Once upon a time, there was a panda bear named Turtle who liked to eat bamboo and grass. He lived in a jungle with lots of trees! He felt happy because he had a lot of food, but then he started feeling sick because he ate eggs. Turtle went to the panda doctor to get some medicine!

He said, "I ate the wrong food!"

The doctor said, "You need to drink water and take some medicine and sleep."

I ATE THE WRONG FOOD!!!

Turtle went home. He ate medicine, which was bamboo, drunk water, and went into his cave to sleep.

Suddenly, Lion ran past Turtle's cave, and woke him up.

"Let's have a race. If I win you have to leave my cave. If you win you get to steal the cave," Turtle said.

"You're on!" said Lion. "On your mark, get set, go!"

In the end, Turtle won the race and got to keep his cave. Turtle was happy because he won the race.

Turtle said, "Good job."

Lion said, "Thank you. I am the greatest lion runner."

Turtle said, "Friends?"

Lion said, "I don't do friends, but thanks anyway."
